

JULY/AUGUST 1999

A Wiesner Publication

ATLANTA HOMESTM

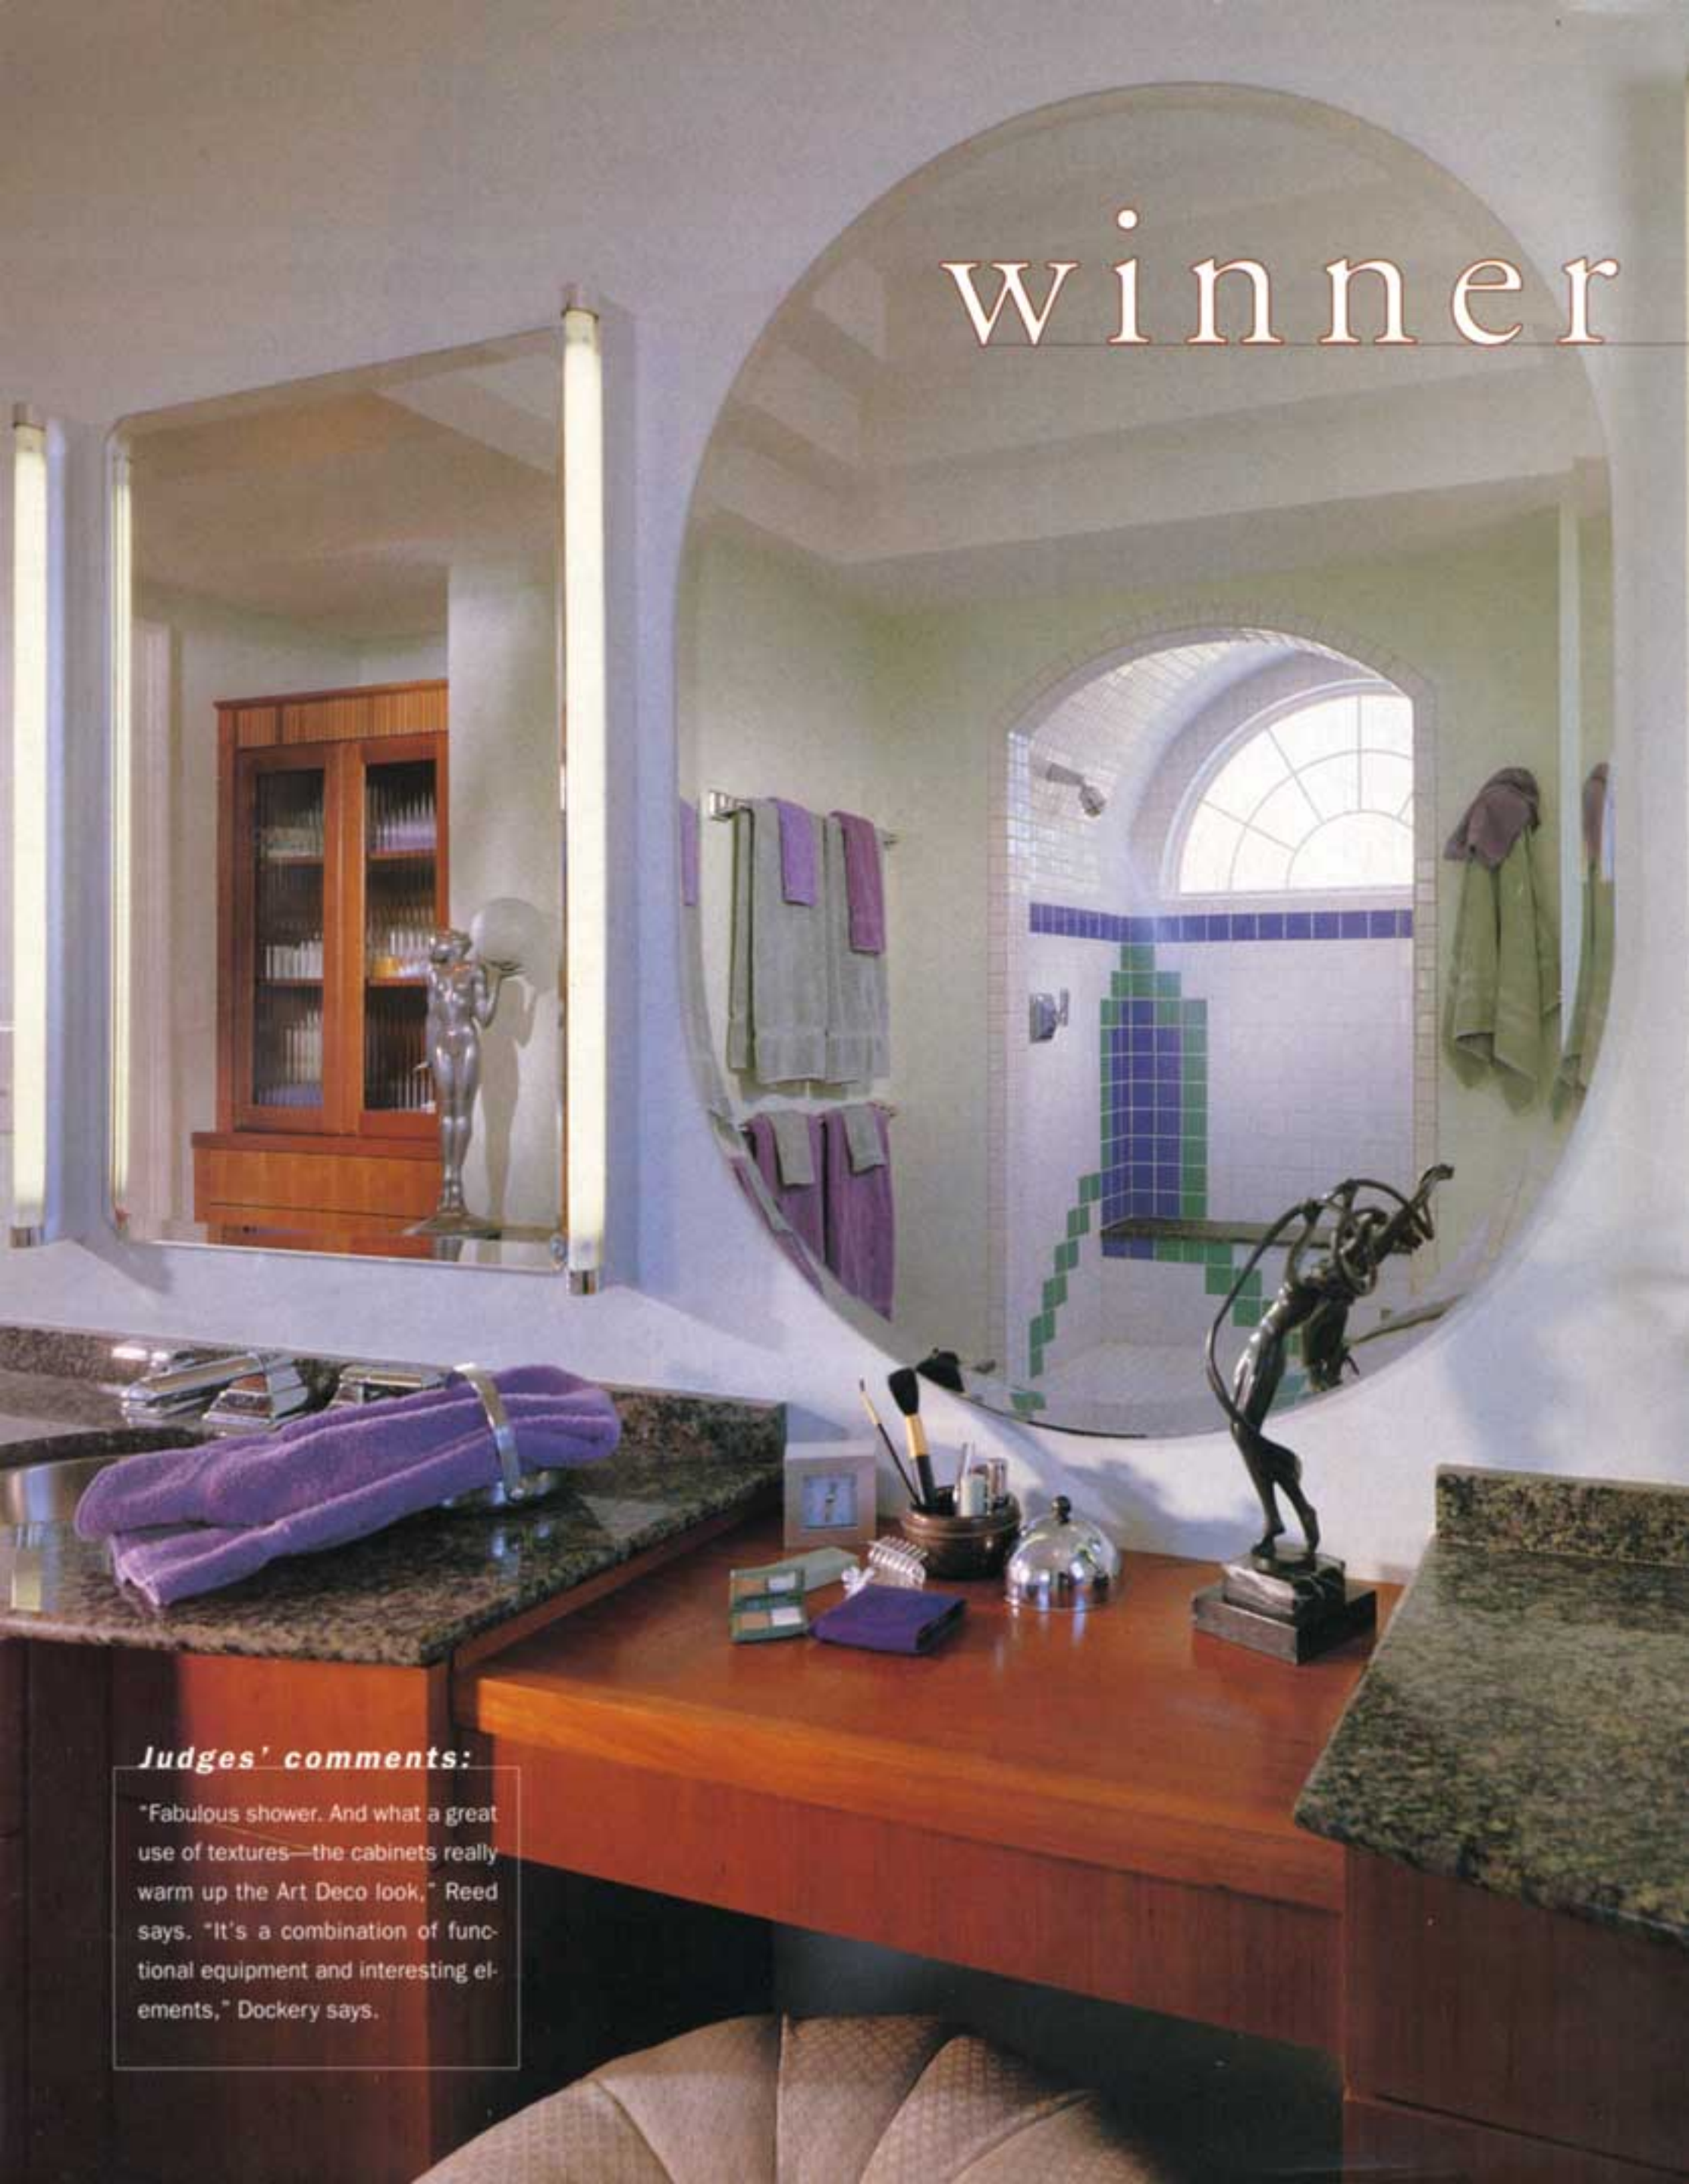

www.atlantahomesmag.com

AND LIFESTYLES

the new bath

drama details style texture color

Fabulous Pool Houses
Atlanta's best wine lists

winner

Judges' comments:

"Fabulous shower. And what a great use of textures—the cabinets really warm up the Art Deco look," Reed says. "It's a combination of functional equipment and interesting elements," Dockery says.

1999 BATH OF THE YEAR

Jackie Naylor, ASID, CKD, CBD
Jackie Naylor Interiors, Inc.

CATEGORY:

Remodeling; larger than 100 square feet.

PRICE RANGE:

$30,000-$40,000.

THE GOAL:

A growing family in an intown bungalow needed additional space, so a new master bath suite was created in the existing attic. The homeowners love Art Deco and wanted this style throughout the suite.

THE PLAYERS:

Together, designer Jackie Naylor and architect Ben Green successfully created a highly functional, low-maintenance, Art Deco-style bath. Contractor Carpenters at Large made the look come together.

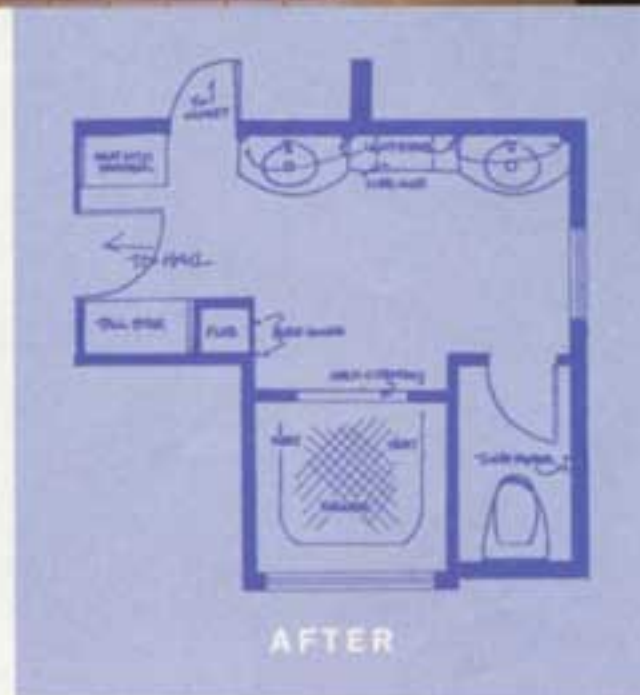

HIGHLIGHTS:

"The biggest challenge was to give the bath an Art Deco look while staying within the clients' budget," Naylor says. "We had to make some compromises." A 12-foot ceiling added enough space to create a stepped-down ceiling, which, along with an Art Deco aqua-and-purple tile floor pattern, draws you into the room. The tile design continues into the doorless shower for two, which has double niches, double showerheads and a seat. An arched shower entry was created to reflect the high Palladian window at the rear of the shower. "The ceiling and the shower are my favorite elements in this bathroom," Naylor comments. A stained-walnut veneer vanity contains double sinks with corresponding recessed medicine cabinets that are flanked by incandescent light tubes. Between sinks, a drop-down makeup area is complemented by a large round mirror like those popular during the Deco period.

IT'S ALL IN THE DETAILS:

A beaded relief above a tall cabinet make it a unique piece while opaque glass in the cabinet completes the look. □ resources

CONTRACTOR: Carpenters at Large
ARCHITECT: Ben Green
FIXTURES/FITTINGS: Kohler from APEX
TILE MATERIAL: Zumpano
LIGHTING: Georgia Lighting
STATUE: Owners' collection